2021-2022 Season Outlook: This year's team will be unlike any other before it due to the amount of new players we have added. In past years, we have filled up most of the starting positions with returners and put new additions into roles that needed to be filled. This year, we expect every new player to contribute in a big way. Most of the guys have not played in a baseball game for at least a year so getting acclimated back to the in-game atmosphere will be a big for us to see our full potential.

Manager Quote: With all due respect to the 2019 National Championship Illinois team, I believe that this is the best Illinois Club Baseball team talent wise that I have ever been apart of. We do not have a weakness at any position and I am fully confident in playing any position player or pitcher which is not normal. When we won the World Series in 2019, we were very good talent wise but everyone was also very close on and off the field. That will come this year with time and playing more games. With the roster depth we have, we can beat any team in the country and I do not think we will have any trouble winning the Great Lakes Conference again. I fully believe we will bring home another World Series trophy come May.

Returning Past All Region/NCBA All American Award Winners (Please list player names, specific accolades & years won): N/A

Players to Watch: Blake Pettys and Billy Printz look to lead the way on the bump as our two returning aces for the Birds. We also added a great strong arm this sesason in Sammy Sabatello as he proves to be a great asset in the rotation. The Birds also added an entirely new infield as Andrew Erickson, Patrick Cudney, Drew O'Toole, and Jack Pfeifer look to hold down the infield. Jakob Grieff and Quincy Sowell return as the two Seinors in the outfield to help give the Birds a shot at a regional birth.

New additions: Aaron Watkins, Andrew Erickson, Anthony Wasowicz, Brock Evans, Casey Ciesla, Christian Cast, Drew O'Toole, Easton Dietz, Jack Pfeifer, Kaden Henley, PJ Bitterman, Patrick Cudney, Sammy Sabatello, Steven Kenyon (14)

2021-2022 Season Outlook: The Birds are eager to return to the diamond after missing the last 1 1/2 seasons due to Covid-19 with a young team as only 4 Seniors return to the team. This team has a lot of potential as we added 14 new guys with a lot of potential. The Birds had an up and down fall season as we dropped two to Illinois but had a walk off win against a good Minnesota team in the Duel of the Dells tournament. We are excited to come back in the spring and prove what this young team can do and make some waves in the Great Lakes South.

Manager Quote: "We have guys who know what it'll take to reach our postseason goals and what it takes to reach them. We have a lot of young talent at each spot but it'll take another level of consistent play and dedication to reach our potential, especially with Illinois winning it all in the 2018-2019 season. We know we have the ability to beat anyone anyday but our main focus will be playing a consistent 1-7 (or 9) inning game each time we step on the field. This group wants to prove how well these young guys can play and set the standard for them for the next 4 years.

2021-2022 Season Outlook: After a 5-1 start in conference, our team is one of the best in the nation in terms of run differential. When looking at D1 Teams who have played at least 2 conference series, our team is second in run differential with 34 more runs scored than our opponents. Our only loss on the season was by one single run. Not only do we have a great run differential, but of the teams mentioned above, we score the 4th most runs per game while giving up the 5th least. This shows the teams ability to not only hit with consistency, but defend and pitch with the best. Our team is in prime position to make it's first post-season appearance in over 5 years. With very few returners, this team is primed to stay atop rankings as the years progress as less than 30% of the roster is made up of returning players. This team is young and ready to compete. We have a pitching staff of over 10 players, depth at middle infield, multiple starting caliber catchers and first basemen.

Number of Returning Players: 19

Returning Past All Region/NCBA All American Award Winners (Please list player names, specific accolades & years won):

Players to Watch: Rookie Jeremy Sacks looks to be a dominant force both at the plate and on the mound. He is gonna cause a lot of problems for the league over the next 4 years. Sophomore Brendan Karsch as taken over the reigns as the starting shortstop and he will feature at the top of the Wolverines lineup this season. We expect Brendan to have a breakout season for his sophomore campaign. Junior Raj Sharma has been exceptional on the mound thus far. The league will have trouble facing him this season. Junior AJ Sheinberg has showcased a lethal bat since becoming a starter in the outfield. He impressed in the Fall, and will be key piece to our team and success in the upcoming season.

New additions: Jeremy Sacks, Daniel Cifu, Donovan Selph, Luke Deskins, Trey Meadows, Trevor Buck, Joe Salvato, Jake Matlovsky, Ben Tjernlund

2021-2022 Season Outlook: With a deep pitching staff thanks to newcomers over the past few offseasons, the Irish look tough on the mound when all options are healthy and available. Offensively, veteran returners look to ignite a spark near the front of the lineup followed by strong and disciplined rookie power hitters. After a tough conference series loss to the University of Indiana without any depth, the Irish look to stay hot this spring and battle for a postseason birth.

We return a lot of players to a maxed out roster and have tons of depth at every position, so we expect to continue the winning culture here. We had s trong fall season and expect nothing less than continued success in the spring.

Manager Quote: "This is definitely the most skilled and athletically gifted group of guys I've ever taken the field with. I've been saying since my sophomore year that this was going to be the year that we get a ring. We had a pretty nice start to the season in the fall and I expect us to continue that success moving into the spring. We've got tons of leadership and experience at the top with the seniors, and a seemingly endless amount of skill with the juniors and underclassmen. I'm as confident as I've ever been in a baseball team, and as long as COVID stays under control, I see no reason we can't give a good run at making it to the World Series."
