There were a lot of improvement made and will continue to be made heading into the spring season.

Biggest Rival: Illinois

Best Player Nickname: Gooz

2024 Spring Season Outlook: Coming off a season that resulted in a regional berth for just the second time in our club's history, the Birds hope to continue that success this season with a pitching staff of mostly returners and a rebuilt offense with just three returning players. While last year was a very senior heavy team, this roster features a more younger team with 5 freshmen and 3 sophomores coming aboard. We will kick off our spring season with our annual trip to Florida over spring break to play in the Swing Into Spring, and afterwards we will have three conference series at Illinois, vs Northwestern, and at Marquette.

Manager Quote: Our program achieved one of its most successful seasons in team history, accumulating 24 wins over the year and securing a place at the Great Lakes Regional for just the second time ever. The season ended with two tough 5-4 losses to two of the country's best teams through the 22/23 year (Michigan and Notre Dame) but the team accomplished so much. The senior class gave everything they had to set us up for a successful 23/24 season. So far, we have had to learn a lot about our new group of players as we have had to incorporate a lot of new talent (especially in the lineup) and fill key leadership roles. We lost a great deal from not only our senior class but also off-field circumstances and that has impacted this group tremendously. The key to this group is patience. We have battled some great teams in our preseason tournaments and conference games already. Although the record may not show it as of now, this is a scary team. We have had a lot of close/tough losses (four 1 run losses) and faced tough pitching/hitting out the gate. What we have learned so far will not only carry over to this spring but for the seasons to follow. Our best baseball is ahead of us and if the hard work is put in to prepare and better ourselves as individuals, be on the lookout for this group this spring. We are excited to see what this group can achieve and can't wait to get back on the field in March.

Biggest Rival: Notre Dame

Best Player Nickname: Michael "Magic" Gioia

2024 Spring Season Outlook: This spring we will travel to PCB to play out-of-conference games and get ready for the spring conference season. During the conference season, we will play Purdue, Illinois State, Wisconsin-Madison, and Northwestern. We look to iron out some mishaps that prevented us from getting sweeps early on as we continue to have fun and gel all the new guys together. It should be a fun time to be an Illini!

Manager Quote: Over the past two years we had a lot of potential and talent on our team that easily could have been translated to playoff runs or even just better finishes in our conference. But this year should be something special. We aimed for more commitment this year which has led to great camaraderie and the most fun a lot of us have had on this team. Our bats are better than ever, and our pitchers have lit the radar guns up early in the season. When we are having fun and playing our best baseball, we have the ability to compete and beat any team that we face. We aren't happy with the way our seasons ended the past two years and in no way are we content. With the depth and talent on this roster, we look to make a big first impression in our new conference, make a deep playoff run, and have a blast while doing it!

2022-2023 Season Outlook:

The Buckeyes will be playing 24 total games, including a tough out of conference schedule vs Iowa, Illinois State, Illinois, and Texas at NCBA Spring Training Showcase, as well as a fierce conference schedule in the GL-South, battling with Ohio University, Miami University, University of Dayton, Indiana University, and the University of Cincinnati. Watch for the powerful bats coming throughout the entire lineup led by Micaden Stephens, Ryan Eatherton, and Gavin Roell and a very deep pitching rotation led by Will Meyers and Landon Ladany along with reliever Jaden Thomas.

The loss of seniors Jordan Nutter, Jayden Faraguna, Niko George, Vince Koprowski and Jacob Cooper after last season will be tough to replace. However, with the addition of many new players the team has rebuilt and is loaded for this season. The program has thrived on pitching and defense the past seven seasons and this year will be no different. With multiple power arms, 12 available pitchers, the Bucks will match-up well with any potential opponent.

Manager Quote: “Last year was a down year for our program. Let’s just say this year will be quite different... The bucks have completely different roster backed by veteran players who are ready to lead this unit to a world series birth. Keep an eye out for this squad, they are relentless and have a strong group of seniors who are looking to go out on a strong note.”

Players to Watch: Star Power: Chuck Brockman SP is a senior and has been a fixture in the rotation. He had an excellent fall and leads the staff. Connor Wendricks is another SP who is building off of a strong year last year and had a really nice fall for us. Freshman SP Mason

Denlow came in and quickly claimed the third starter role and has proven he can thrive in that role.

Conlan O'Brien is a senior starting catcher who is phenomenal defensively and has a major league arm behind the plate. He has grown each year as a hitter. He really had a nice fall and was one of our biggest offensive weapons.

Max Steiner is a sophomore from Verona, WI. He is our starting shortstop and one of our high leverage relievers when needed. He has been excellent defensively and one of the better hitters as well. He will be a big part of our offense.

Jakson Amend is a junior utility player/catcher/DH and is one of the better hitters in the conference. A real team leader as well.

A couple of accomplishments worth noting is that the identical twins from Hudson, WI Braden and Brennan Ducharme played on the US National 18U fastpitch softball team. They won the Pan Am championship in Columbia this past summer. They also finished 5th in the world cup.

Senior and 4 year starter between SS and 3rd, Joe Cornelius, competed in and completed his first ironman this year.

Glue Guys: Adam Acker is a SP/RP from Waunakee and one of our team leaders. He is always working hard and being a great example on and off the field for his teammates. It wouldn't be right now to add Brockman and O'Brien to this list as well because of their leadership qualities.

New additions: Nate Elias, Verona, OF

Brandon Brokowski, C/DH

Mason Denlow, SP (mentioned earlier.. Brandon above was his HS catcher in Evanston, IL

Eli Ramthan, OF Hudson, WI

Payton Lawrence, C/Utility Hudson, WI

Jacob Sheahan, 2nd, OF Edgewood

Biggest Rival: UW-WW as of last year. Historically IL. IL state joining our conference should add a nice rivalry as well.

Best Player Nickname: Dahmer- Connor Wendricks

2024 Spring Season Outlook: We have an absolutely loaded conference, but we go into the spring sitting on top for now. We have the potential to beat anyone in the nation, now it is about building consistency and performing each time out. We have had small commitment issues with some guys and we need to get everyone on the same page to reach our potential.
